School Psychology Awareness Week - November 13-17

The National Association of School Psychologists, of which our division's two Psychologists are members, is sharing this year's theme 'The Power of One' to create caring connections. The significant roles and hard work of Donelda Wygiera and Barb Rusiewicz-Enright are well-known in Chinook's Edge, as they support our schools in the education and development of our most vulnerable children and youth. Thanks for showing us that developing meaningful relationships is transformative to the students we serve.

International Education Week

Chinook's Edge gives a big shout-out to our visiting students during this International Education Week, November 13-17. Our division has long been a favourite choice of students from many countries, who want to learn alongside our 11,000 students in our great school communities - which happen to be enticingly situated near major cities AND the mega popular Rocky Mountains!

Chinook's Edge has 22 Global Partners International (GPI) students, who are joining us primarily from Japan. As well, many of our schools are welcoming students who have arrived with their family members to the safety of Canada. Each has a story and we thank everyone involved for supporting them in their learning. We continue to see more and more diversity throughout our division, which creates a rich opportunity for everyone in our schools to learn and grow together!
